

MOLECULAR FRONTIERS FORUM 2008

January 11, 2008, Biopolis, Singapore

INSPIRING YOUNG MINDS FOR SCIENCE

THE 1ST MOLECULAR FRONTIERS FORUM 2008

Organized by the Institute of Bioengineering and Nanotechnology in collaboration with Molecular Frontiers, founded by the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences.

Date: January 11, 2008, 1pm to 6pm

Venue: Matrix Auditorium, Level 2, The Matrix, The Biopolis, Singapore

KEYNOTE LECTURE

Molecular Sciences and the Developing World: A Conflict Between Traditions and Future Demands

Speaker: Professor Erik Thulstrup, Roskilde University, Denmark

PANEL DISCUSSIONS

How to Win the Nobel Prize

Chair: Professor Bengt Nordén, The Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences, Sweden

Panelists:

- Professor K. Barry Sharpless, Nobel Prize in Chemistry (2001), The Scripps Research Institute and The Skaggs Institute for Chemical Biology, USA
- Professor Richard Schrock, Nobel Prize in Chemistry (2005), Massachusetts Institute of Technology, USA
- Professor Ryoji Noyori, Nobel Prize in Chemistry (2001), RIKEN and Nagoya University, Japan

How Will Molecular Sciences Impact Our Future?

Chair: Professor Jackie Y. Ying, Institute of Bioengineering and Nanotechnology, Singapore

Panelists:

- Mr Lim Chuan Poh, *Chairman, A*STAR, Singapore*
- Professor Louis Brus, Columbia University, USA
- Professor Shuguang Zhang, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, USA
- Professor Sumio Iijima, NEC Corporation, Meijo University and Research Center for Advanced Carbon Materials, Japan
- Professor Tom Brown, University of Southampton, UK

MOLECULAR  FRONTIERS

www.molecularfrontiers.org

www.moleclues.org

Institute of Bioengineering and Nanotechnology

A*STAR

www.ibn.a-star.edu.sg

This event is organized in conjunction with the 2nd Molecular Frontiers Symposium.

